

Trailhead Birdhide Carpark, Lough Boora Parklands, Offaly

Services Kilmacnac (6km)

Dist/Time 9km/2hrs-2hr 30mins

Difficulty Moderate

Terrain Mix of bog roads and sandy tracks

To Suit Medium levels of fitness

Min. Gear Trekking boots, snack, fluid

Directions to Trailhead

From the town of Kilmacnac (on the NS2 between Tullamore and Birr), take the NS2 following the signposts for Tullamore. As you leave the town turn left after crossing the bridge over the Silver River. Follow the riverside roadway for 300m to reach a T-junction where you turn right. After 6km the trailhead is on your left opposite a wooden divalride.
 Note: The trailhead is signposted from Kilmacnac.

A-B. Start from the Car Park opposite the Birdhide on Cycle Path Road. The trailhead is marked by a mapboard. Walk along the tarred road in the direction of Kilmacnac - there is a galvanized shed in the distance. Continue for 400m to reach a crossroads where the Farmlands Loop (green arrows) goes left. You continue straight here - following the red arrow.

B-C. After 200m, on a slight bend in the road and after a sign for Boora Parklands, you veer to the right onto a sandy bog roadway. After another 200m, turn left at a T-junction and continue to follow the roadway to reach a sharp right bend where you join the long-distance Offaly Way (marked with yellow arrows and trekking man logo). Keep right here.

C-D. Follow the meandering roadway - bounded by trees on your left and a Partridge Farm on your right. After 1.5km you enter a coniferous plantation and arrive at a T-junction on top of an embankment. Turn left here.

D-E. After only 100m turn right at the edge of forestry, and follow the sandy roadway past a long, narrow, lake on your left. Eventually you reach a T-junction where you turn right and, after 100m, arrive at the Mesolithic Site (on your right).

E-F. Leaving the Mesolithic Site, continue to follow the sandy roadway past two bends and then a long straight section through forestry. At the end of the forestry, exit through a wooden gateway and reach a multi-junction of roadways and tracks - the large stone Boora Pyramid looms on your left. Continue straight on here, keeping the 'standing timbers' on your right and on to the top of the embankment.

F-A. From the top of the embankment you will see the birdhide which marks the trailhead from where you started. Enjoy the stroll home!

www.laois.ie/walking www.offaly.ie/walking

ISBN 0-9636841-5-1

9 780953 584154

Design: www.designhouse.ie / Photos: www.photos.com

